EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the TITLE:

"STOPCOCK" has been deleted and –A METHOD FOR

MANUFACTURING A ROTATABLE PLUG ELEMENT AND VALVE—has been inserted.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: it is deemed novel and unobvious over the prior art of record to so perform a process of manufacturing a rotatable plug element as claimed including molding a plug element without machining utilizing a thermoplastic as claimed, wherein the plug element includes a rigid support with a conical surface and a hollow interior with a first opening on a side of the structure and a second opening on a narrow end of the structure, and molding an array of pliable sealing ridges utilizing silicone rubber attached onto the conical exterior surface of the rigid support including at least two circumferentially extending ridges as claimed positioned on each side of the first opening formed in the rigid support structure, as claimed in claim 23; further including molding an array of sealing ridges which extend above the support by about 0.008 inches, and wherein the molding of the plug element includes undercutting portions of the support structure as claimed in claim 21; including a process for manufacturing a valve comprising casting a valve body without machining, molding a plug element without machining as claimed, overmolding pliant material without machining as claimed, having a plurality of sealing ridges protruding therefrom, and positioning a biasing mechanism between the plug element and the conical cavity for the valve body wherein an effective seal is achieved as claimed in claim 22; further including molding a thermoplastic for the plug, casting aluminum for the valve body, and positioning a compression spring as claimed in claim 24.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
